UTOPIA: University of Toledo Open Institutional Archive
UTOPIA.UTOLEDO.EDU

Contents: digitized local history and cultural heritage collections from the university’s archives, publications, and manuscript collections.

Rationale for digitization
- Preservation of rare archived materials
- Easy access from computers, mobile devices, and from online classrooms
- Support for digital humanities and science projects
- Easy access to out-of-print books in the public domain

Faculty use cases:
- Teach and research with the use of digital collections
- Develop virtual exhibitions as collaborative student projects
- Link to custom-developed digital collections from the Blackboard class rooms
- Discuss other ideas with the Digital Initiatives Librarian

UTDR: University of Toledo Digital Repository
UTDR.UTOLEDO.EDU

Contents: Electronic theses & dissertations, masters & doctoral projects, faculty research, research data, departmental reports, university archives, publications, and an open access journal

Faculty use cases for the institutional repository
- Greater support for knowledge management through digital dissemination of scholarship
- Support for open access publishing
- Access to research data (per NIH, NSF, and other grant agencies)
- Use geospatial technology
- Author self-archiving
- SelectedWorks (digital portfolio)
- Showcasing faculty and advanced student scholarship
- Use the IR as the archive for born-digital content
- Teaching with the IR
- Teaching new digital skills (e.g., digital publishing)
- Discuss other ideas with the Digital Initiatives Librarian

Contact Information: Arjun Sabharwal, Coordinator of Digital Initiatives, Phone: 419-530-4497
Email: arjun.sabharwal@utoledo.edu