HIGHLIGHTS OF 1981

This Annual Report and the statistical tables attached will indicate that 1981 was a year of substantial growth and progress for the Raymon H. Mulford Library. We were fortunate in having a budget that allowed us to replace two professional slots in the Library. These positions were previously frozen. The monograph acquisitions picked up from the previous year.

The Library is one of the most automated collections in the state. It has the ability to tap into computerized data bases in New York, Washington, D.C., and Columbus. The most recent service is in the area of pediatrics funded by the March of Dimes. This Birth Defects Information System data base is available to physicians in Northwest Ohio on a twenty-four hour basis, by merely calling the Raymon H. Mulford Library.

Computer terminals have been added to the Reserve Book Room to allow students to interact with the computer assisted instructional program in pharmacology. Dialog is commencing with other departments in C.A.I.

The entire collection, both books and journals, are on machine readable form. The Library has an excellent staff of trained searchers and this service continues to be one of the most valuable contributions we make to our medical center clientele.

Interlibrary loans ran efficiently and smoothly throughout the year. The Reference Department reports that they are extremely pleased with the addition of the Siemens TWX. This machine is quieter, faster and more efficient.

There was a minimal turnover of staff this year. Mr. Frank Elliott, Reference Librarian, accepted a position in Oshkosh, Wisconsin and Mrs. Sharon Franklin, also a Reference Librarian, opened a bookstore in the Toledo area. In October of this year Ms. Catherine Constance and Mrs. Paula Davis joined our Public Services Department as Reference Librarians.

This was the first time that the Library lost an employee due to death. Mrs. Mary Kate Crofoot, Library Media Technical Assistant in the Cataloging Department, died shortly after open heart surgery in July. Mary Kate had been with us seven years and is greatly missed by all. The staff held a "Mary Kate Crofoot Memorial Dinner" and collected enough funds to purchase the:

HARVEY, WILLIAM, La Circulation du Sang.
Traduction Francaise, avec Introduction
et Notes par CHARLES RICHET. 287 pages.
Tall 8vo, printed wrappers (chipped);
uncut, some foxing. Paris, 1879.
FIRST EDITION IN FRENCH OF "DE MOTU CORDIS."

This book was identified in memory of Mary Kate Crofoot and placed in the Rare Book Collection of the Library.

The Library had a special exhibit of microscopes on display for the Midwest Anatomists Association Thirty-Ninth Annual Meeting, which was held in Toledo, Ohio, this past summer. The microscopes were from the collection of the Mulford Library Archives, the collection of the Howard Dittrick Museum of Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland, Ohio, and from professors and chairmen of the Medical College of Ohio. This exhibit included examples from the 18th Century to date. They were displayed on the fourth and fifth floors of the Library, as well as a display in the Rare Book Room of the Library. It was well-attended and one of the best displays we have had in the Library.

The Library has had a successful year and has made substantial improvements in its programs and services. This was all made possible due to the efforts of each and every member of the Library staff.

PROOFING AND EDITING

The Librarian's office continued to proof and edit manuscripts and papers for the faculty and staff. Each year this service expands. This year several students submitted papers for publication and we were pleased to edit and assist these students.

SCAN

The Mulford Library remains a regional repository for documents and publications made available through the Service Center for Aging Information (SCAN) of the National Clearinghouse on Aging. The Area Office on Aging, P.S.A. 4 and MCO have agreed to provide necessary facilities and support-services to store, maintain and service the microfiche items. There are two microfiche readers available in the Library.

SECURITY

Due to the problems we were having with theft the College Facilities Department installed glass doors to the entrance of the Library. Elevators were re-keyed and keys restricted. We are in hopes that these changes will help to alleviate this problem.

SERIALS

We were fortunate this year in not having to cancel our current journal subscriptions. We have not added new subscriptions, but have been able to hold current.

Each year the serials department reviews the usage of all the current journal titles individually with the assistance of the staff in the collection development, serials, circulation, reserve, reference, copy service, interlibrary loan and others. The project entails months of extensive review and from its findings it is always most encouraging to note that more than two-thirds are heavily used by faculty and students and the other one-third not as heavily used as others, but considered to be essential to the needs of the health sciences programs. There were very few titles considered for cancellation. This reflects the quality of the collection and that it is an active collection.

The serials and bindery functions of the Library continued to function smoothly and efficiently without hiring a new serials librarian. Mr. John Lucas, Cataloger, assisted Jim Sigrist with these functions.

The department handled numerous gift materials received from donors in the community, provided daily assistance to faculty and student users in locating needed journal materials, and participated in MLA & USBE Exchange Services in order to send duplicate materials to requesting libraries, and to acquire items which our library needs.

TEACHING

Mr. R. M. Watterson, Librarian, and Instructor, Department of Anatomy taught the following groups this past year:

Pastoral Care Students

History of Medicine

History of Anatomy

TOURS

Tours of the Library were conducted for candidates for faculty positions and interested community groups, such as health-related associations. The Librarians are active in B.I.E. Day, AHEC, Hospital Accreditation, etc.

CATALOGING - 1981

During 1981 - 605 titles and 781 volumes were cataloged. Either OCLC cataloging data was adapted or original records were input.

There were 19 titles reclassified during 1981. Also 102 titles containing 113 volumes were withdrawn from the collection. Nearly all of those withdrawn were minor directories and pamphlets, which had been apparently cataloged when the Library was started, and we had not received any editions since that time. The items were of a type that needed to be updated annually to be of any usefulness.
